

Forever Training is unique to IComm. It means that for the life of your managed services agreement you get ongoing training. With this, your organisation is able to call on Halcyon Change Management training resources as you require them. And, even if you do not have an active managed services agreement, we can still help by offering you this as a single service.

IComm's Forever Training includes

- Training or refreshing existing users.
- New staff inductions.
- Technology development sessions.

- Super user re-training.
- Executive training.
- EA training.
- Customer service training.
- Device training.
